Indian equity markets are expected to open positively on Friday, June 5, 2026, tracking GIFT Nifty at 23,562 — up approximately 50 points (+0.21%) from Thursday's Nifty futures close — as overnight global markets inched higher on renewed US-Iran deal optimism, providing a constructive close to a deeply volatile week. US equity markets extended records Thursday as optimism over a tentative ceasefire extension deal with Iran sent oil prices lower — oil falling as traders increasingly priced in a US-Iran MoU that would reopen the Strait of Hormuz. US and Iranian negotiators have reached a tentative agreement on a 60-day MoU to pause hostilities and launch further nuclear talks — but final approval from Trump and Iranian leadership remains pending amid disputes over uranium enrichment limits, stockpile disposal and verification — the precise sticking points that have delayed signing for over two weeks. Both Trump and the mediators have indicated the deal could be announced as early as this Sunday — though it has not been finalised and could still fall apart — making this weekend the most consequential for Indian markets since the April 7–8 original ceasefire weekend. The week's defining technical achievement: the 23,200–23,300 demand zone absorbed eight consecutive intraday tests without a single closing breach — confirming institutional conviction at this level that is the strongest structural signal of the entire war cycle. Overall, GIFT Nifty's 50-point positive indication reflects measured optimism ahead of a potentially deal-defining weekend — "cautious buy on dips toward 23,400–23,500" is the operative strategy heading into the weekend close.

Nifty 50 Performance

Thursday's Nifty 50 opened at 23,282.45, touched a high of 23,465.30, a low of 23,247.30, and closed at 23,416.55 — up 10.95 points (+0.05%) — the ninth consecutive session of institutional demand absorption at the 23,200–23,300 structural floor without a closing breach. GIFT Nifty at 23,562 signals an open approximately 50 points above Thursday's Nifty futures close — the index opens near 23,466–23,500, approaching the critical 23,500 resistance zone. RSI at 42–44 zone — any positive close today pushes this toward 45–47, approaching the neutral boundary. MACD bearish crossover active — a second consecutive positive session today would confirm histogram deceleration and begin arresting the negative momentum. A close above 23,500 today heading into the weekend is the minimum structural requirement. A deal announcement Sunday gaps up sharply above 24,000 on Monday.

Nifty Technical Levels

Support: 23,300, 23,200, 23,000

Resistance: 23,500, 23,700, 24,000

Bank Nifty Performance

Thursday's Bank Nifty opened at 53,918.85, hit a high of 54,461, a low of 53,829.40, and closed at 54,307.85 — up 121.90 points (+0.22%) — holding above 54,000 on a closing basis for a third consecutive session, the most constructive streak since late May. GIFT Nifty's positive indication targets a Bank Nifty open near 54,500–54,600 today — approaching the critical 54,500 overhead zone for the first time this week. Oil prices falling on deal optimism is the single most direct banking positive — every dollar off crude normalises India's inflation trajectory, RBI policy path and FII return probability. RSI recovering toward 47–49 zone — approaching the neutral 50 level. MACD bearish crossover intact but histogram decelerating. A close above 54,500 today confirms the banking recovery is re-establishing ahead of the weekend.

Bank Nifty Technical Levels

Support: 54,000, 53,500, 53,000

Resistance: 54,500, 55,000, 55,500

US Futures, Korean Stocks Drop as AI Mania Fades

Asian stocks declined along with US equity-index futures as enthusiasm for the artificial intelligence trade cooled after driving markets to record highs this year. MSCI's regional equity gauge dropped 1.3%, with South Korea — the world's best-performing gauge this year and a bellwether for AI investments — slipping 4.4%. Futures contracts for the Nasdaq 100 Index dropped 1.1%, indicating a third day of losses for the gauge as investors rotate out of tech and chip stocks. Currencies remained a focus with the Korean won extending its drop to a new 2009 low. The Indonesian rupiah closed Thursday at its lowest ever against the dollar as foreign investors pull billions of dollars from the country's bonds and stocks fell. Stocks are pulling back from record highs as Broadcom Inc.'s outlook for AI-chip sales fell short of elevated expectations, pausing a blistering advance in semiconductor shares from their war-driven lows. Investors now face a crucial test on Friday with the US jobs report, which could reshape expectations for Federal Reserve policy and determine whether the AI-fueled rally broadens further or loses momentum.

Jan de Nul Group Wins 25-Year Contract to Dig Argentina Waterway

Belgian dredger Jan de Nul NV and local partner Servimagnus SA won a 25-year contract from the government of President Javier Milei to upgrade Argentina's chief trade route, the Parana River. Jan de Nul, which has dredged the Parana shipping lane since the 1990s, beat a bid from fellow Belgian company DEME Group NV. The waterway runs from the River Plate estuary at Buenos Aires to the crop-export hub of Rosario and beyond. Rosario was the world's largest single supplier of oilseeds and grains last year.

Oil Steadies After First Drop This Week on Peace Talk Optimism

Oil steadied after its first decline this week, as optimism over US-Iran peace talks weighed against uncertainty surrounding a ceasefire deal between Israel and Lebanon. Brent traded around $95 a barrel after falling 2.8% on Thursday, while West Texas Intermediate was below $93. President Donald Trump said that talks with Iran were going well, despite Tehran-backed Hezbollah rejecting a US-brokered ceasefire deal between Israel and Lebanon. WTI has gained more than 6% this week after uncertainty over the progress of the negotiations eroded some of the earlier optimism for a deal that would lead to a resumption of oil flows through the strait — which carries about a fifth of the world's crude and liquefied natural gas in peacetime. Futures are still down about a fifth since early April — when the US and Tehran agreed to a ceasefire that ended more than five weeks of fighting.

Ukraine's Zelenskyy Proposes Peace Talks in Letter to Putin

- Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy proposed peace talks to Russian leader Vladimir Putin in an open letter, saying "Ukraine is ready for a full ceasefire for the duration of the negotiations".
- Officials from Germany, France, and the UK have been discussing the possibility of holding talks involving Russia and Ukraine, and see an opportunity to bring Putin to the negotiating table.
- Zelenskyy's letter aims to increase public pressure on Putin, and he suggested that any meeting should take place in a third country, such as Switzerland, Turkey, or Arab countries, rather than Moscow.
